AI Song Contest

BIOGRAPHY

Karen van Dijk has been an editor and TV maker for the Dutch Public Broadcaster VPRO since 2011 always looking for new ideas and innovation to bring to the public. At VPRO, she created and organized the very first AI Song Contest in 2020. 13 teams from all over Europe and of course Australia entered their Eurovision inspired AI Songs, and some would certainly not have been out of place at the actual Eurovision Song Contest. The first contest was organized thanks to NPO Innovatie and in collaboration with NPO 3FM. EBU was the voting supervisor. Together with a fantastic group of AI Music enthusiasts, Wallifornia MusicTech and DeepMusic.ai, she now organizes the second edition of the contest which is growing fast with even more teams from all over the world:
